Artist Darren Evans presented his original painting at the event. The painting depicts coasties running the jerry cans down to the old boathouse as was customary in the early days of the station. The artist referred to historical photos to accurately represent the scene. Mr. Evans loaned the work to the Port Orford Lifeboat Station Museum where it is currently on display. It was a fun and inspiring day for all and we can't wait for next year for the 22nd annual event ✨
